PEACE DESPITE BULLIES

It becomes increasingly apparent that one of the leading issues in the coming Presidential campaign will be, Shall or shall not the country have peace? Entirely aside from any discussion of the merits of the league of nations, the question of putting a definite end to the technical state of war which is hanging over us must be determined. It is perfectly clear what is about to take place in Washington. Congress may or may not pass the peace resolution and send it to the President for his signature. If it is defeated it will be because Mr. Wilson has been able to influence sufficiently his adherents in the Senate to accomplish that end. If it passes it will be doomed to an executive veto. In either case resident Wilson will have been the evil genius that thwarted the peace movement.

Ever since the President went to Paris in December, 1918, he has held the dove of peace as a sort of hostage to insure the consummation of his schemes for a league of nations. From the beginning it has been within his power to bring peace to the United States. If he had intimated to his followers that a peace resolution or a peace treaty, separate from the league covenant, would have been acceptable to him it would have been passed with alacrity, but he has not scrupled to hold the country at war while keeping incessantly before it his dreams for world regeneration. In spite of the fact that the primary votes in the various States indicate conclusively that the people have heard enough of his league, and are anxious to have it retained from further discussion he persists in his stubborn determination to have it adopted as one of the planks of the Democratic platform.

But the people are about to assert their right to peace with the world regardless of whether another issue is entangled with the peace declaration or not. The candidate of the Republican party will be pledged to an immediate peace program, with further discussion of the league of nations to follow if it appears to be the desire of the people to adopt the league idea after it has been thoroughly Americanized by reservations. But the Democratic candidate will be pledged to a prolonged war program, if Mr. Wilson has his way, with a denial of peace until such time as Congress and the country are willing to swallow the unexpurgated covenant.

The public is about fed up on attempted rule by autocratic minorities. Organized groups have sought from time to time to hold the unorganized majority to a compliance with their demands, upon point of starvation, freezing, and other related dangers. The course Mr. Wilson is pursuing is but an application of the methods of the industrial highwaymen. War is to be the portion of the people of the United States so long as they obdurately refuse to accede to an international program of his own planning, binding not only on the present but on all future generations.

But the American people do not take kindly to threats, whether they be directed at their domestic life or their relations with foreign neighbors. It is a peculiarity of the American character to call bluffs of that kind, and challenge the power of the threatener to make good. On the showdown the people have invariably won out and the President may well draw a lesson from the fate of other bullies in the past few months. From what has befallen them he should learn that not only will the people have peace, but they will have it without any league of nations strings tied to it.

Political Meeting.

There will be a mass meeting of all colored voters of this community Monday night, May 17, 1920 in the Odd Fellows Hall, 328 Fallowfield avenue at 8 o'clock to which all colored voters as well as all others are requested to attend.

D. F. Ferguson, Chairman.

On the other hand a river transportation official said that the statement that the local has 600 members" is all poppycock; I have information that the real vote was only 10 for and three against the strike, which represents the total active membership of their organization."

In some quarters it is said the strike vote is a species of propaganda due to influence exerted by the striking railroaders and their leaders to cripple the river business. The outcome will be watched with interest.

VOLUME XX—NO. 292 CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, SATURDAY, MAY 15, 1920 TWO CENTS

CAMPAIGN FOR RIVER ROAD MUST BE PUSHED VIGOROUSLY

We Must Continually Remind Officials of Pledges Already Made

PERSISTENCY MEANS SUCCESS

The full text of the resolutions adopted at the road meeting held Thursday evening is published in another column of The Mail today. These resolutions put in concrete form a brief history of the efforts of the citizens of this section of the valley to secure the improvement of the highway between Speers borough and Coal Centre. This highway, known as a state road, has been listed for improvement for a number of years, and according to the agreement made between the County Commissioners and the State Highway Department, is marked No. 1 on the list.

However, as events have turned out, it is a question as to where it stands in the ine of improvement, for two highways which were further down in the list, Nos. 2 and 3 respestively, are already being advertised for improvement, while the local road is still being held up and waiting for c ertain details to be taken care of.

The meeting of Thursday has served to clarify the situation and the people of the various communities served by this highway are in possession of more information concerning its present status than ever before. Moreover, they are better informed as to how to proceed and where to exert the greatest influence in order to get this highway under contract.

It is understood that it will take a little time to have the various details arranged, but the thing for our citizens as well as those of other communities, to do is to keep everlastingly at it until success crowns our efforts. The State Highway Department says it is ready to build the road; the county commissioners say they are also in favor of it; and this being the situation our Board of Trade should exert every effort to keep both of these Departments strictly on the job.

Neither the State Highway department nor the County Commissioners should be given an opportunity to forget their promises. The highway is too important to this community and to the valley in general to be longer neglected. It is an essential link in the system of roads approved by the State, and one which is absolutely necessary to the prosperity and well being of the citizens of this section of the valley. Our work has only begun and it should be continued until the objects sought have been accomplished.

Mrs. Ross Tenny, a former resident of Charleroi, now living in Pittsburgh, underwent an operation in the West Penn hospital a few days ago, and is reported as recovering very satisfactorily.

Rev. Gomer Griffith, rector of St. Mary's church, who has been quite ill at his home for a number of weeks is reported as slowly but satisfactorily recovering.

TRAIN HITS TRUCK AT BEECHWOOD CROSSING

As if emphasizing the protest of the citizens of Charleroi for the need of an improved road from Speers to Coal Center, an accident happened at the Beechwood crossing on the Pennsylvania railroad, near Dunlevy, Friday afternoon, in which a truck was wrecked and the driver miraculously escaped death. Train 7743, due at the local station at 12:45 p. m., hit a Ford delivery truck of the Umbel grocery store at that point about motor and scattering its load of groceries in every direction. The driver, Oscar Richards, saved himself by jumping when he saw the collision was inevitable and escaped with a slight injury to one of his hands. The trains stopped and Richards brought to Charleroi. The train which hit the truck is a fast one, making the run from Roscoe to Charleroi without any intermediate stops in 16 minutes, and it hit the truck with such force as to completely wreck it. Beechwood is one of the most dangerous crossings between here and Allenport, and a number of a ccidents have happened in the past at this point.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR LATE BISHOP VINCENT

The Magic City Chautauqua Circle held a special meeting on Friday evening, at the home of Mrs. W. B. Pfleghardt and the program was given over to a memorial service in honor of the founder, Bishop John Heil Vincent, whose death occurred last Sunday in Chicago. The services were beautiful in their simplicity. Rev. John R. Burson spoke on the "Life and Work of Bishop Vincent;" Mrs. McNaughton spoke on "Some Personal Reminiscences" having attended the Assembly meeting in 1873; Mrs. Vivia P. Stewart spoke on "Bishop Vincent as a Spiritual Leader," having graduated in the class of 1912 and at that time the Bishop preached the sermon to the graduates. Other members of the Circle took part, contributing much to the beauty of the service. The Chautauqua movement has been a great inspiration to regular and systematic reading and it is distinctly an American nstitution. The local Chapter is in a flourishing condition and the year's program has been closely followed.

Was Arrested in Charleroi in Connection With the Boehme Murder

WAS INDICTED IN THIS COUNTY

Andy Graylock, arrested in Charleroi by Chief Albright and Officer Murphy in connection with the murder of Otto Boehme of Charleroi in February, 1919, was convicted in the Allegheny county courts on Friday of murder in the second degree, for the killing of officer Robert Hamilton in Turtle Creek on the 4th of last April. The jury was out for over three days debating on the evidence, and it is said stood 11 to 1 in favor of murder in the first degree. Friday afternoon the jury asked for further instructions from the court, shortly after which they returned a verdict as above.

Graylock in company with Emmanuel Campbell and James Pentland, have been indicted in Washington county for the murder of Otto Boehme. However, officers are seeking other incriminating evidence which they believe they will eventually secure before bringing the men to trial.

In the meantime both Campbell and Pentland were placed on trial in the Washington county courts for robbery, both of them being convicted and sentenced, Campbell being given 12 years and Pentland 10 years to the penitentiary, which sentences they are now serving. At the same time the District Attorney of Allegheny county asked for the custody of Graylock in order to place him on trial for the Turtle Creek murder, of which he has just been convicted, although his counsel will ask for a new trial.

Graylock is also said to be guilty of robbing a woman on Penn avenue, Pittsburg of $3,100, but for which crime he has not been placed on trial. It is likely that he will be sentenced on the murder charge and this will keep him in custody until the local officers are in possession of the evidence they now seek, and if it is obtained, all three men will be brought to Washington county and placed on trial for the Boehme murder.

RIVERMEN TO ASK FOR HIGHER WAGES

A vote is said to have been taken by members of Pittsburg ocal No. 942, International Longshoremen's Association, in which they have asked steamboat owners to increase wages for mates, watctmen, firemen and deckhands. The vote was taken on Friday, and the demands according to report, are to be presented to steamboat owners within a very short time for a decision.

The demands as received by the steamboat owners are as follows: Deckhands and firemen, now receiving $117 per month and board, demand $172 per month and board; mates now receiving $167 per month and board, now ask $280 and board; watchmen, now receiving $141 per month and board, ask $208 and board.

According to a statement made by an official of the Association the organization has 600 active members, that a strike vote had been taken and all but three had voted favoring a walkout. He also said that 300 other men engaged in similar work, but not members of the local, had given assurance they
